Modern Slavery Statement

MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT

Modern Slavery is a problem that is growing and one that we at Selective Travel Management are committed to addressing. The rise in globalisation has brought with it a rise in exploitation including people trafficking, forced labour debt bondage and child marriage. The International Labour Organisation estimate that one in every 150 people are trapped in modern slavery. Of this 28 million people, 18 million are exploited in the private sector, 6 million are in forced commercial sexual exploitation and 4 million are in forced labour imposed by a state. This has grown exponentially in the last 5 years. At Selective Travel Management we endeavour to ensure there are no Modern Slavery risks within our own business or our supply chains.

This statement is published in line with section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and details the actions taken during the previous financial year. This statement has had full sign off by the Executive Board of Directors.

Our Policies

Our commitment to preventing modern slavery is integrated into our staff and supplier codes of conduct and is addressed in our policies such as;

We require our staff and suppliers to act in a way that reflects our values and ethics both inside and outside the workplace.

Staff

Selective Travel Management are accredited with Investors in People and in December 2023 were accredited at Silver status. Our staff are our number one asset, and we continue to regularly communicate with our employees, which has helped us proactively meet everyone's needs, while supporting their ongoing health, wellbeing and mental health.

We do not tolerate discrimination, abuse or harassment of any kind and we expect the same of our suppliers. Our employee charter sets our commitment to our people and in turn what we expect from them.

All staff must adhere to our codes of conduct and company policies.

Our staff have been fully trained in procedures that support the Modern Slavery Act and are expected to work in line with this policy. We have facilitated awareness training for staff annually which outline the channels through which Modern Slavery can manifest and the procedures required should a concern arise. We operate an open-door communication policy, and we also provide a protected disclosure facility should a staff member require confidentiality.

Our Supply Chain

We will not work with a supplier before carrying out thorough research into their business procedures and we ensure they are appropriately licensed to carry out the service they are providing. New suppliers must complete our mandatory questionnaires to ensure they adhere with our Code of Conduct and comply with the Modern Slavery legislation. We conduct bi-annual risk assessments across our business which includes supplier audits. In line with our commitment to the Modern Slavery Act we have added a clause to our risk assessment that specifically addresses this issue within our supply chain.

We only work with reputable suppliers, most of whom we have partnered with for many years, and we take responsibility for ensuring our supply chains are clean of slave labour. This is done through our ISO Quality Management System; we have formal Service Level Agreements with all suppliers, and we carry out frequent supplier audits. Our supply chain primarily consists of:

- Global Airlines
- Global Hotel Chains
- GDS System
- Maintenance Contracts
- Various technological partners (payroll, Marketing systems etc)

We require our entire Supply Chain to share our values and policies on human rights. We also expect them to operate to the highest standards in managing their own supply chains.

Due to the nature of our business, we assess ourselves to have a risk of modern slavery in our business and supply chains as we procure services from a range of international suppliers. On reviewing our Supply Chain, we have had no reports or breaches in any modern slavery offences, nor have we taken any action against any Supplier for any failings.

We are committed to ensure all new Suppliers complete a Modern Slavery Questionnaire prior to being introduced within our Supply Chain.

Moving Forward

The World Travel Centre Group maintains a commitment to preventing Modern Slavery and will continue to operate a zero-tolerance policy in this regard. This statement will be reviewed annually, and its effectiveness will be measured in line with KPIs.

We will continue to review, develop and promote our policies and practices to identify and mitigate risk areas for modern slavery and human rights abuse in our business and supply chains as part of our ongoing commitment to continuous improvement.
